Music Festival Here April 9, 10, 11

Three thousand five hundred boys and girls from all parts of Georgia will gather on the GSCW campus, April 9, 10 and 11 for their annual music festival. The elementary school festival will be held April 9, and the high school festival will be April 10 and 11.

Boys' and girls' glee clubs, mixed choruses, vocal solos and ensembles, instrumental solos and ensembles, and concert and marching bands will be featured in the festival. These performances will be held in Russell, Peabody and Porter auditoriums, the band room, and the Methodist church.

The schedule for the high school festival is as follows:

Thursday -- small instrumental and large vocal groups.

Friday -- small vocal and large instrumental groups.

Friday -- 7 p.m. -- Band parade at GMC.

The Georgia Music Education Association is sponsoring this festival. W. T. Verran, Carlo, is president of this association.

Sanroma, Noted Pianist To Appear Here In Concert April 19th

Sanroma will appear in a piano concert April 9, at 8:30 in Russell Auditorium, concluding the Community Concert Series for the present year.

Wesley Foundation Plans Homecoming

The Wesley Foundation will hold its annual week-end April 11, 12, and 13, in the basement of the Methodist Church, with Ann Hutchinson, retiring president, presiding at the meetings.

There will be a homecoming party for delegations from the University of Georgia, Georgia Tech, and Emory University, April 11 at 6:30 p.m. Entertainment for the occasion will be furnished by the deputation from Georgia Tech.

Don Castlebury will serve as master of ceremonies at the "football banquet" which will be held in the basement of the Methodist Church on April 12, at 6:30 p.m. Several "players" will be present in uniform; and popcorn, peanuts, and candy will be sold. After the program, a turkey dinner, or "fowl play in the game room" will be served by the Women's Society of Christian Service. Mrs. Arthur J. Moore, prominently known as a world wide speaker, traveler, and Christian, will speak at the dinner on "Lest We Miss Thy Kingdom's Goal."

On April 13th, at 11:30 a.m., there will be a special church service with Mrs. Arthur J. Moore as the principal speaker.

Tickets for the April 12 banquet are on sale for 60c all this week in each dormitory.

Everyone is invited to the week-end programs.

Chapel Programs

Friday, April 11--No chapel. State Music Festival will be held here.

Monday, April 14--Dr. Dean F. Smalley of the American Medical Association will be the speaker.

Sanroma was born in Puerto Rico in 1903. At an early age his musical talent was discovered and found to be so outstanding that the Puerto Rican government sent him to Boston to study in the New England Conservatory. At the age of 13, he graduated from this institution with honors three years later. He then studied in Boston with Antoinette Szumowska, one of Paderewski's few pupils; with Artur Schnabel in Berlin, and with Alfred Cortat in Paris.

Sanroma has appeared in concerts in London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, Madrid, Barcelona, and the major cities of the United States and Canada. During the past two years she has starred at Summer Festivals in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Washington, New Orleans, and New York. He toured Latin America in the summer of 1945, and in 1945-46 he toured the United States and Canada filling over sixty engagements. He rendered a series of programs over CBS coast-to-coast broadcasts, appeared on the Boston Symphony's Summer Pops and Esplanade series over the Blue Network, and on the Firestone Hour and RCA Victor show.

Sanroma's engagements for the year include an appearance with The New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra where he will perform the world premiere of the New Hindemith Piano Concert.

Friday, April 16--Annual Parents Day. Miss Jane Sparks will be the speaker for chapel.

Monday, April 21--Nominees for class officers will be introduced.

First Parents Day Since War To Be Observed At GSCW April 18th

Parents' Day, sponsored by the Granddaughters Club, will be observed on Friday, April 18. This event will mark GSCW's first Parents' Day in seven years. A special program has been planned.

Parents will sign in dormitory books on arrival. Miss Bonnie Dale Sansom and Miss Louise Nelson will take charge of local registration for town parents. After registration, the parents are urged to visit dormitories and other buildings, as well as classes, which will be out at 10:30.

Miss Jane Sparks, director of women's programs for WSB in Atlanta, will be the speaker for the chapel program at 11:00 a.m. in Russell Auditorium. An alumnae of G.S.C.W., Miss Sparks received her A.B. degree as a member of the class of 1944. She began her work with WSB in August of that year, and since that time has made quite a name for herself as both writer and producer of programs for WSB. She was selected as one of three narrators for the Fashionata of 1947. Miss Sparks is still chiefly interested in the dramatic side of radio, and the talent which she displayed in her work in the GSCW College Theater is not going to waste.

Lunch will be served on front campus and a prize will be given to the dormitory which can boast of the most parents present.

Student Leaders Go To Conferences

Doris Helton, Margaret Anderson, and Betty Hayes will represent GSCW at conventions this week and next.

Doris Helton and Margaret Anderson will represent GSCW at the annual meeting of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Governments, April 17, 18, and 19. The meeting is to be held at Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans, La.

Betty Hayes, president of the GSCW International Relations Club, will attend the Southern Conference of International Clubs, April 11 and 12. The Conference will be held at Randolph Macon College, Ashland, Va.

AIMS OF MAJOR ORGANIZATIONS

CGA--Closer coordination of all the branches of CGA, "Y," and "Rec"; continued cooperation with the faculty on problems relating to faculty and students; strive to promote a more effective honor system by working and cooperating with the Honor Board; careful consideration of any changes in rules, asking for such changes that seem best for the student body; continue support of standing committees and give aid to them in any way possible; consideration of all matters referred to Student Council and take such actions that seem best for the student body; continuation of the Junior Advisors for the Freshmen and plan a training program for them to be executed during spring quarter; encourage more student participation in College Government through all branches of the government, placing emphasis on the incoming Freshmen; consideration of the recommendations of the outgoing Council and continuation of their work; inform students of what is being done about problems relating to the group as a whole, and provide opportunity for students to express their opinions; to make College Government an effective organization in providing for a happier and a better group on our campus.

Y--Enrich the lives of the students through a growing knowledge of God and a study of Christian principles; meet the needs and interests of all members of the campus community through an effective Y program, continue cooperation with CGA and Rec by carrying out a more effective Big Sister program to help with Freshmen Orientation with a training program for Big Sisters in the spring quarter, cooperating with CGA in developing a more effective honor system on our campus; increase student participation by having student speakers on Monday night Y programs, student deputations, student leaders on Current Affairs discussions, and sponsoring an Institute of Personal Relations and Religious Emphasis Week.

Rec--Provide recreation for dates; provide for rental equipment all day during the week; promote better physical fitness for every girl on the campus; encourage girls to participate in games not on a competitive basis, but for the fun of the game; and emphasize the fact that the purpose of Rec is to provide fun for everyone.

The Colonnade Speaks

THE COLONNADE IS THE OFFICIAL VOICE OF THE STUDENTS, so says the handbook. But is it really? Do you ever read it except when exam schedules are published? And if you do read it, do you ever notice anything but the misspelled words and errors.

The first thing the new staff wants to make clear is, the Colonnade is your paper, and it is going to be a paper that you will read and enjoy if you will cooperate with us.

THE STAFF WILL DO ITS PART. We will write unbiased, accurate news stories which meet high standards of journalism. We will publish a lot of sense and a little nonsense, and there will be no more syndicated material in the Colonnade, not even cartoons.

The Colonnade will keep you aware of the activities of your Student Council, your "Y," and your "Rec," and our editorials will back these organizations and promote their projects for better campus life. Our editorials will speak for the good of the school and the student body, and our news stories will inform you of GSCW accomplishments and activities.

A club news editor has been added to the staff to enable us to publish the news of all campus organizations. A make-up editor has also been added to the staff, enabling us to have more attractive and better headlines. All stories will be copy and proof read before being published.

We welcome letters to the editor, and we will publish any suggestions about campus and college affairs. We want to give you your paper—written, edited, and published as a paper should be. In other words, we're working for the Colonnade to be THE OFFICIAL VOICE OF THE STUDENTS.

Our First Support Goes To The Honor Board

Several years ago, 1942 to be exact, ninety percent of the GSCW student body voted for an honor system because they wanted the responsibility for regulating their college life. These girls felt that since rules are made for the protection of the institution and the individuals, it was their individual duty to assume the responsibility in upholding such rules, thus making less need for rules. Then the honor board was set up to direct an educational system to instill the academic phase of the honor system at GSCW. At the success of their work, the Honor Board was disbanded.

Last year the Honor Board was reorganized with the intent of instilling the dormitory phase, as well as the academic phase, of the honor system in the life at GSCW. When work was begun on this broadening of the honor system, the new board realized that the disbanding of the Honor Board when it was felt that success had been achieved with the honor system in academic work, was a mistake for such a great and important thing as a working honor system needs a continuous educational program, directed by an organized group.

The new honor Board has set up a program to re-educate us in academic honor and to educate us for high personal integrity and honor in dormitory life. This program is, to quote from the honor code of conduct, "For the purpose of better preparing ourselves to foster the ideals and principles of the great democracy in which we live by putting them into practice here"; because there are always in any community certain standards of behavior which the members of that community feel will best express their ideals of conduct. So at GSCW, certain rules have been set up by the students, and each student is on her honor to answer for herself and for other students in the business of compliance with these standards."

The work of the honor board is for us, all of us; to help us realize the beauty and happiness gained for us by an honorable life; to make us aware that until the mind can love, and admire, and trust, and hope, and endure, reasoned principles of life, of high personal integrity are seeds cast upon the highway of life, which we, as students and builders of the future world, do not want to trample into dust as unconscious passersby, for they would bear the harvest of our happiness.

Letter To The Students

April 8, 1947.

Dear Students:

As we start off a new quarter, we would like to thank you for your interest and cooperation in College Government in the past. It will be hard for the new officers to do as well as the past ones have done. The success of our program depends upon the participation of every student.

College Government is your government. Please feel that you can come to us with ideas and suggestions. We would be delighted for you to attend any meeting of Student Council. Our work is to promote successful group living, and we need your help and cooperation to attain our goal.

We hope you will continue your interest in College Government, and through it you may work toward making college life a real experience in living and learning.

Sincerely your friend,
DORIS HELTON, President,
College Government Association

Dim Whims

With my big pink eyes wide open and my long floppy ears perked up, many incidents have presented themselves to me, so—gee, wouldn't I be an April Fool not to put you in the know, too.

One of Miss Pattie's bright students writing on an exam that a man, disappointed in love, said he was going to become a Nun and hide away in a monastery. It wasn't a freshman either.

Our dignified and brilliant seniors are really displaying their intelligence these days. Jean and Muriel telling of the giant B-29 bug that flew in their third floor Sanford room and made a forced landing in their study lamp. Please, girls, let's not exaggerate. Also, some of our future June graduate, (they hope), called Dr. Wells and asked him to call "Nesse" and tell her that Governor Thompson was going to pay her a visit. The call also went to Dr. Dawson and Miss Maxwell, who put on their Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes and went to greet the Governor. Our faculty seemed eager, but they may have forgotten that Governor Thompson was once a school teacher with "mirror pants."

Atkinson students should send orchids to their new dietitian (if they had the money) for the butter she puts on the toast for breakfast. Quite a few more girls are arising from their sleep to make that 7:30 meal. Also the girls who have classes on third floor of Parks are grateful for the gals who made it possible for them to once more see the finish on the table in the chemistry lecture room.

Some of our fair sex are awaiting contracts from Paramount Pictures for their beautiful performance in Madame Curie's picture. Never before have I seen so much primping on one campus as went on here the day the movie was being made. Really, girls, I thought your beauty was natural.

I was glad to see Eliza Athon sitting in class once more, and also many of our other former students. Some are plus a few things and some are minus a few things.

Have you heard about Miami and Florida? If not just ask the A Cappella girls and they will gladly tell you. But what I want to know is what happened to the sun tans?

Students To Attend Salem Conference

Approximately nine representatives from GSCW will attend the state conference of the Christian Association in Georgia which is to be held April 11, 12 and 13, at the Salem Camp Grounds near Conyers.

The theme for the conference will be "Personal Growth Through Service to God, Others, and Self." The main speaker will be Dr. B. D. Napier, head of the Religious Department of the University of Georgia. Dr. Napier, the son of missionaries, was born in China, and received his Ph.D. degree from the Yale Divinity School.

Officers of the Conference are: Floyd Peede, Tech, president; Virginia Cline, Shorter, vice president; Candy Hollingsworth, Agnes Scott, secretary; and Bishop Pirkle, University of Georgia, treasurer.

Schools represented will include: Agnes Scott, Andrews, Brenau, Clemson, Emory, University of Georgia, Georgia Tech, GSCW, Georgia Teachers College, LaGrange College, Shorter, Wesleyan, and West Georgia College.

The GSCW delegation will be in charge of the recreation on Saturday afternoon. Janet Fowler, "Y" secretary, will lead one of the workshops.

Two Library Courses Now Offered Here

Two library courses will be offered first session of summer school; cataloging and classification, and library administration. Reference and book selection will be offered second session.

Atlanta Artist Shows Water Colors Here

A collection of water colors by Katherine Comfort, Atlanta's "Woman of the Year in Arts," is on exhibition in the Art Building April 4 through 17.

Miss Comfort is Chairman of the Art Department of Girls' High School in Atlanta. Her courses cover both realistic and artistic types of work. She has also launched a class in engineering drawing at Girls' High. She spends her summers painting and traveling.

Gallery hours for the exhibit are 8:30 to 5:00.

Sunrise Service Features Glee Club

The Cecilia Singers sang for the Sunrise Service which was conducted at the GMC Stadium Easter Sunday.

Following this service a breakfast was given at the Knight Club for the Cecilia's and their dates. Later the girls sang at the regular church services at the Presbyterian church.

Wesley Deputations Heard At 'Y' Vespers

A deputation from Wesleyan College in Macon gave a Vespers program at "Y" Monday, March 31. Emily Bell, the newly elected leader of the YWCA at Wesleyan, presided over the program and gave the call to worship. Elizabeth Lundy gave a short talk.

"51...the world's most wanted pen

"51 writes dry with wet ink!"

THE fame of the Parker "51" has broad dimensions. Every language, every continent knows this fine pen. Pride in its ownership is shared in every walk of life. Surveys both here and abroad substantiate these facts. American pen dealers, for example, recently named Parker the most-wanted pen—rating it ahead of all other well-known makes combined. (Score: 72.7% for Parker; 27.3% for all others.) Fortunately, more 51's are now being shipped. So see your dealer soon. Here is a pen of simple beauty. Every detail reflects unhurried craftsmanship—working to highest precision standards.

Its unique point has no moving parts to clog or fail. It starts promptly. Writes smoothly and with pressureless touch. The precision-fit cap slips on—locks without twisting. Within the tapered shaft, the 51's filler is safely concealed. This pen alone is designed for satisfactory use with Parker "51" Ink that dries as it writes! (It can also use ordinary ink.) Beta Alpha To Elect New Officers April 9

Mrs. Zeb B. Vance will speak on, "Combining a Career with Marriage" at the regular meeting of the Beta Alpha Club, April 8. Mrs. Vance is connected with the Business Administration Division at Mercer University and successfully combines a career with marriage.

On April 19, a Beta Alpha meeting will be held for the purpose of electing new officers for the coming school year. The officers elected will be installed in May.

BSU Conducts Spring Retreat

The Baptist Student Union Retreat, held March 29 and 30 at the Baptist Student Center, was addressed by the Rev. Cary Wood, Tennille, Ga., who spoke on, "Realizing the Realities of Christ."

The Baptist Student Union Executive Committee, headed by Margaret Gheseling, drew up plans for spring quarter at the retreat. These plans will be announced later.

Librarians Attend Library Workshop

A conference, held at Florida State College for Women, Tallahassee, Fla., March 10 through 15, to discuss "Library Leadership Workshop," was attended by Miss Sara Jones, library supervisor; Miss Austelle Adams, GSCW library; and Miss Grace Hightower, Peabody library.

In addition to attending the meetings, the group visited Wakulla Springs, made a tour through the Killbuck Gardens where the 145-year-old camellia is on display, and were also entertained with a picnic at the club house of the college.

English Faculty Makes Banquet Plans

The English faculty is planning a dinner for April 15 in honor of Dr. T. W. Wynn, who is celebrating his 50th anniversary in education this year. The dinner will take place at the home of Miss Hallie Smith.

Will the person who borrowed Miss Patty Turner's French Dictionary please return it immediately!

Students Decorate Lounge In Chappell

The members of the Home Furnishings Class, under the supervision of Mrs. J. W. Comer, are decorating a room in Chapel Hall to be used as a lounge for the Home Economics girls.

Chapel Hall has recently been excavated and space was left underneath the building. The students decided to put this space to some use, and agreed on a lounge as a good project.

Mr. McDonough of the Art Department, has helped with the color schemes for all of the rooms which are being redecorated. The Home Furnishings Class will make draperies, renovate old furniture, make slip covers, and refinish the woodwork.

Notice!

Don't forget to vote, Wednesday, April 9, for your officers for the new school year. Ballots will be placed on the note rack Wednesday. Please vote and place ballots in the box in the lobby of the post office.

Signed, Evelyn Warren, Retiring President.

Union Recorder Prints Colonnade

The Milledgeville Union-Recorder, which has always taken a great interest in GSCW's school paper, The Colonnade, is edited by Jere N. Moore. The Union-Recorder is Georgia's oldest weekly. It was organized in 1872 by the consolidation of the Federal Union and the Southern Recorder, but the Southern Recorder was established in 1819 and the Federal Union in 1829, thus the paper dates back to 1819, making it 127 years old.

The Union-Recorder has been in the Moore family since prior to the War Between the States. The late Jere N. Moore, the grandfather of the present Mr. Moore, was the editor for sixty years. The late R. B. Moore, his son, was editor from 1902 until his death in 1942 when his son Jere Moore took over the editorship.

Jere N. Moore, the present editor quit his post only for a short time to take part in World War II. He entered the service as a Captain in an anti aircraft unit of the National Guard in 1940. He was among the first to land in the Southwest Pacific, where he spent thirty months. During this time he rose to the rank of a Colonel. Mrs. Moore, his wife, carried on in her husband's place until his return in 1945.

The Union-Recorder has had many obstacles on the way, but they overcame every obstacle in an effort to make regular editions. They even had the printing equipment in the woods when the Yankees marched through. The paper has played a great part in Georgia's history. "It is with pride," said Mr. Moore, "that I am associated with a publication that has played such an important part in Georgia's history. When I think of the people's problems in the dark days after the War Between the States, I am too ashamed to complain of the little inconveniences we have today."

The Union-Recorder never just stands by and lets the younger papers get ahead but is always right in front with modern journalistic trends. It was among the first of Georgia's weeklies to carry pictures, and it now carries numerous pictures of local people. It also maintains its own photography department. WMVG, the radio station in Milledgeville, which was started last March, is an affiliate of the paper.

The paper has had many honors bestowed upon it. It has twice been a winner of the W. G. Sullivan Trophy for outstanding community service. The Thron Scope Trophy was presented to it for the most fearless editorial and the War Crier prize for the most religious. Mr. Moore, the

Elmo And The Jessie: Or, Elmo's Pay Day

Once upon a time, just to be in good story telling form, there was a Jimmie named Elmo. Private Elmo. Private Elmo was quite intelligent—on the surface, at least. Anyway, brains are of no importance in this story. Personality is the thing.

One fine day Private Elmo decided to take a walk. He had not had a walk in such a long time—that is, unless you count drilling and bullringing. So Private Elmo put on his socks and opened the door. Then he shut the door and put on the rest of his uniform.

Once outside, he took a deep breath. "Ah," sighed Private Elmo. "Ahhhhh." He took another deep breath. "Ahhhh... CHOO!" Pulling out his kleenex, he trudged bravely on down the street. As he gazed happily around at the world in general, he suddenly did a double-take.

"My stars," said Elmo. "My gosh, Miss Agnes!" And his commanding officer, standing nearby, knew that Elmo had seen a girl. In fact, everybody knew out Elmo. Ignorance is bliss... they say.

"My stars," repeated Elmo, for the benefit of those who hadn't heard him the first time. "My stars," said the girl, and everybody knew that she had seen Elmo. My gosh, Miss Agnes, what is that?"

Elmo blushed prettily. "It's none!" the girl cried excitedly. "But what's its name?" "Emo Edmundson Edward Eustice Elope Ewarter the Third," said Elmo briefly. Just imagine three people with that name.

"It can talk, too." The girl was enchanted. "It must be a Jimmie—just look at those clothes, though."

Elmo did. His shoes were on backwards. He ventured a word. "Are—are you a Jessie?"

"Naturally. All the best people are!"

Elmo was silent for a few minutes. The Jessie started to move away. Elmo wanted to reach out and stop her from leaving. He could not—would not let this strangely wonderful new being pass out of his life so quickly without even saying good-by. He summoned all his courage.

"Good-bye," he whispered. "Good-bye," said the Jessie, sweetly, in his ear.

So ended this lovely romance—for a short while. Elmo proceeded on his way. And his way led right up to "Tommy's." He prepared to make a grand entrance. He straightened his cap and opened the door to enter, but Rastus Farmwhorle boldly swept past him. "Uncouth creature," murmured Elmo. "No wonder nobody likes him!"

They entered almost together. (Cries of "Hello, Rastus!" "Hi, Rastus, ole bean!" "Rastus, fella!" "Rastus, Rastus, he's our man... if he can't do it, Nobody present editor, also served as the President for the Georgia Press Association for two years.

The Union-Recorder expects to do even more in the future. As Mr. Moore puts it, "The Union-Recorder has spent 127 eventful years, but just watch us this next 127."

Why don't you get a haircut, honey? You might not look so bad underneath all that hair?"

"Oh, NO!" cried Elmo quickly. "I grew it on that account."

"Oh, Well! Just LOOK where we are! I declare, had you noticed? I hadn't. But we're right outside Tommy's. Of all the incidences. And I was just WISHING I had a coke!"

"Uh..." Elmo swallowed hard. Fifty cents he had left. "Why, ELMO, you SWEET THING! Why I never DREAMED you wanted to buy me a coke. Come on, let's go in. Oh! Jerkie, Elmo here wants to buy me something to eat. Jerkie, I want a large coke, a ham, and a cheese, and some potato chips."

She looked around for a table. Rastus was sitting in a back booth waving for her to join him. "Just a minute, Rastus, honey," she called. "Elmo, sugah, Rastus wants me to sit with him. You don't mind, do you? Good. Now you just wait right here and pay for the food. I'll see you later sometime. Good-by."

Elmo sighed. All the way back to main barracks he sighed. Ah, life—Ah, love—Aw heck!

Sandwich Salesmen

Irresistible after evening study hours are the tempting sandwiches sold in Connecticut college dormitories by a group of enterprising students who thus help defray their college expenses or earn money for extras such as flying or horsemanship lessons. Sally Carpenter (center), one of the originators of the "big business," gaily hawks her wares for customers. Barbara D. Witte and Betty Worken.

Harry Wilcoxen, Bradley university flash forward, scored seven baskets out of seven shots attempted in Bradley's 77-58 win over the University of Virginia. Bradley has won 21 games, lost three.

"Pardon me, but this is where I get off," Chet Dembroske of the Westminster college cage team tells a Waynesburg player as he drops a basket that played an important part in Westminster's 59-55 win.

These three members of the University of Florida glee club are literally singing for tuxedos in the club's current drive to find formal dress for its 86 members. Not that the singers are going to have to don barrels, but just so anyone with a spare tux will get the idea they put this shot to music.

Veterans on the campus of the University of North Dakota formed a strong lobby in the state legislature as they appeared before the house and senate appropriations committee to plead for more funds for all state schools. Here they check newspaper reports of their activities in Bismarck.

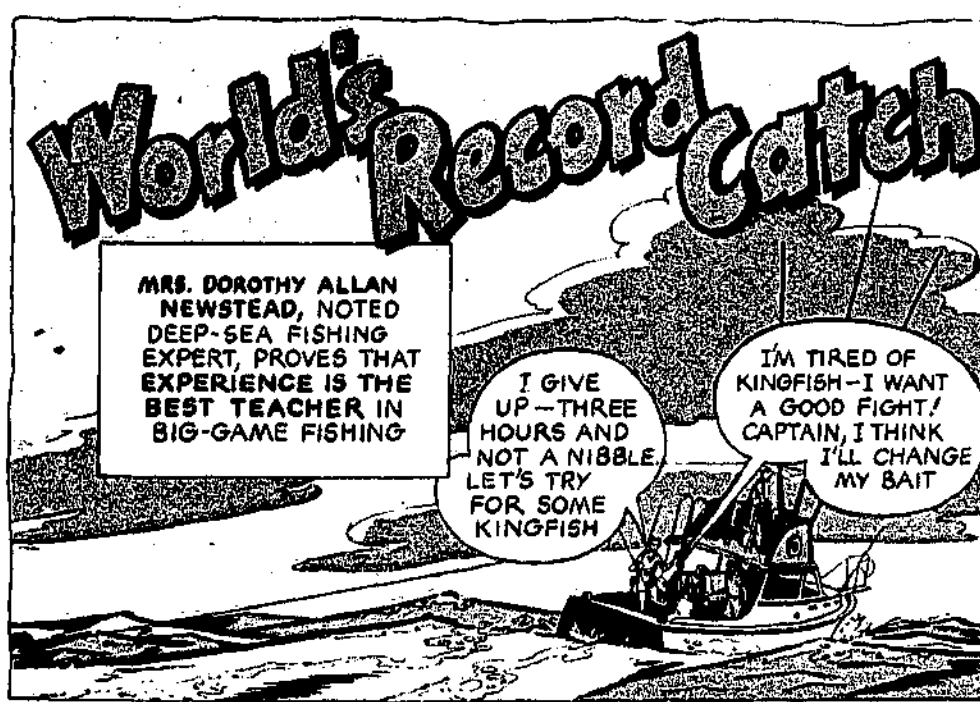

And these are the winners of Occidental college's tug-a-war contest that pitted sophomore girls against freshmen boys! Victors were in mud up to their waists and the losers up to their necks. Weather prediction—sunshine tomorrow.

Fly Time

These students find their course in fly tying and fly casting at the Pennsylvania State college so engrossing, they keep on working after class. They're seven of 86 students enrolled in what is believed to be the first course of its kind ever offered in an American college.

Spring Hed Cub

Tradition at Ohio Wesleyan university decrees that no one except high and mighty seniors may sit upon the stone bench outside the famous Gray chapel. When unsuspecting Marion Parsons, a freshman, was caught on the bench, she got the usual sentence as shown in picture No. 2. Result: A spring cold, hot foot bath and a hot water bottle not shown here.

MAKE MOTHER "QUEEN FOR A DAY"

ON MAY 11th!

It's no secret that every woman would like to be "Queen for a Day" . . . and especially Mother. She's so busy doing things for everybody else in the family, she doesn't often have time to indulge in the luxury of feeling like a queen. But Mother's Day—May 11th offers the perfect occasion.

Rambling . . . With Rec

"Rec" Board is busy these days making places for Sports Day which is to be held April 28. Adele Rogers has been appointed general chairman for the day and Bobby Mahr, Leotus Morrison, Frances Lewis and Jane Knowles have been appointed chairmen of the swimming, tennis, soft ball and volley ball activities. Keep eyes and ears open for further announcements concerning this big event.

Several new members have been welcomed to Rec Board. On general Rec Board these are: Louise Moore, freshman class manager and Dot Davis, equipment manager. The new members on the executive board are: Lillian Mac Donand, point recorder, and Sara Tate, publicity chairman.

A preliminary swimming meet will be held April 19 at 10 o'clock a.m. to choose the best swimmers on an individual basis. Those who are chosen will participate in the swimming meet on Sports Day.

Students To Attend State Home Ec Meet

Representatives from GSCW will attend the State Home Economics Conference at Bessie Tift College, Forsyth, April 18 and 19. Those attending from GSCW will be: Evelyn Warren, president of the Upper-Casmen Home Economics Group and State Club Reporter, and Mary Catherine Chapman, State Corresponding Secretary. Miss Roslyn Ivy, the Club Adviser here, will accompany the girls to Bessie Tift.

Notice!

The Co-ordinated Council of Religious Activities is sponsoring a Bible Study Breakfast each Tuesday morning at 7:30 o'clock in the "Y" apartment. This quarter Rev. Edmund Perry is conducting a study of the Gospel of St. John. A breakfast of fruit, juice, doughnuts and coffee, or toast and jelly, is served for only ten cents. Everyone is invited to come, and the study is over in plenty of time to get to 8:30 classes.

Faculty Forecast

Dr. Wells was the guest speaker at the Elbert County Teachers Annual Banquet in Elberton on April 3. Today he will speak at the Annual Banquet of the Voluntary Religious Association at the University of Georgia in Athens. His topic will be "Life's Real Value." On April 15th he will address the Fitzgerald Rotary Club and the Fitzgerald High School.

Dean MacMahon will speak at Miller High School today and at Westeyan College April 10.

Mrs. Bernice McCullar will speak at the Woman's Club in Moultrie on April 9th.

Dr. George Beiswanger has three lectures scheduled for April: Perry, April 17th; Carrollton, April 19th; and Sparta, April 25th.

Attention,

Tennis Players!

A sheet is placed in the bulletin board of the Physical Education Building to be used for signing up the tennis courts for the hours which are available for the players other than those who are enrolled in the regularly scheduled classes. For us to be able to avoid any unpleasant arguments about the courts of a game which is known to be traditionally courteous, please be sure that you have the court when you go to play.

dances? Huh??? Go way!!! Go way, I said.

Ow! Who poured that bucket of ice water over me . . . and what am I doing stretched out here on the floor ???(zzz) Huh??? Fire drill? Go way! Put me down, Put me down, I said. Tommy!! Room-mate, I'll never forgive you for this!

Here I am out here freezing to death. If I get pneumonia, you know who I'll blame, don't you? I'll sue you. That's what I'll do! Freezing, that's what I am—freezing! What? We can go back in now! Well, it's about time! I know I'll never get back to sleep, and . . . what am I doing with this towel wound around my neck? Oh, well, I know I'll get to sleep again tonight.

Imagine! A fire drill at this time of night. And I was having the most heavenly dream. Ice water . . . Phooey! You just wait, room-mate. I'll think up a fitting revenge for you tonight because I know I'll never get back to sleep . . . zzz"

A Cappella Returns After Successful Tour Romantic South Dance Theme

The Milledgeville College Choir left Wednesday night, March 19, for one of the most successful tours in the history of the choir. Sixty-three students and their chaperones composed the group.

The group gave a concert in the Baptist Church in Vidalia Wednesday night. Thursday night a concert was presented at the Methodist Church in Cordele. Athleen Hill, Cordele, a choir member, entertained with open house in her home.

The choir advanced to Waycross Friday, where they performed in the First Baptist church. After this concert the group was entertained in the home of Carol Jean Cason. Saturday morning the group visited Laura Waker Park which is on the edge of the Okefenokee Swamp.

The choir was cordially welcomed to Florida by a large attendance to the concert in the Baptist Church, at Jasper, on Saturday evening. On Sunday, the group visited Silver Springs where they saw the Indian Village and underwater wonders. Sunday evening they presented a program in the First Methodist Church, Sanford.

Monday, the choir went to Lake Wells where they visited Bolt Tower, and the Musa Isle Indian Village and Hialeah Park in Miami. Monday evening they gave a concert in the Trinity Methodist Church. The concert was followed by a tea. Tuesday, the group visited the Macfeadon-Deauville Club, and dined at the Cabanna Club. They also saw the fastest sport, known, Jai A Lai (Hill), being played at Biscayne Fronton.

The presented a concert in the Methodist Church on Wednesday and were entertained by the Woman's Club in Pametto. On Thursday, the choir presented a concert in Sarasota, where they saw the John and Mable ingling Art Museum, the Ringling Mansion, and the Ringling Circus. On Saturday, the group came by way of the Tamiami Trail from Miami to Tampa, where they had a program in the Baptist Church on Friday. The church gave a reception in their honor.

The group came back into Georgia on Saturday, and gave a concert in the Moultrie High school Sunday they advanced to Dublin

The Freshman Class dance was held in the gymnasium Saturday, April 5. The theme, "Old South," was carried out in the decorations, which featured a copy of the front of the old Governor's Mansion, complete with columns. A large drawing of a Negro Mammy and a small child eating watermelon covered the wall at one end of the gym. The figure of a Confederate soldier dancing with a southern belle dressed in a pink crepe dress trimmed with sequins, decorated the opposite wall.

Hat check girls were at the door to check bids and wraps. Music was furnished by the civilian orchestra from Warner Robins.

'Skin Of Our Teeth' Set For April 24, 25

"The Skin of Our Teeth," famous Broadway show, will be presented by the College Theatre April 24th and 25th in Russell Auditorium.
